

Our visited to Mary Arden Farm

In Tuesday 10th July Redwood class visited Mary Arden's Farm in Wilkete. We went to learn more about the Tudors.

The day started with us sat in our groups with our lunch. Mrs Hill did the register. Then we got lined up and were ready to go.

Firstly, we got on the coach and it took 50 minutes to get there. The journey seemed to take forever. When we got there we all unbuckled our seat belts and got off one group at a time. Then we walked to a little room where we met a lady called Suzanne. She ~~told~~ us that we would be wearing Tudor puffed. Everyone was really excited. We got changed ~~seperately~~ separately and the other lady was showing us how to curtsy. The curtains was pulled back and the girls curtsy and the boys bowed.

Then we listened for a lady called Barbara who would be playing the flute.

After that, we wanted to do the first activity. My first one was herbs. So we went through the herb garden and we got to smell them
and we got to water them as well.
Then we went inside and we got to make a lavender herb bag and it was hard to do.

Next, we went upstairs with Mrs
Williams and we ~~learned~~ learnt to do knitting and it was really, really, really hard but we all tried to do it. Becky was really good at it though.

After we did that, we went back down stairs and did some paintings and we did a Tudor Rose, ~~which~~ we painted on to linen. Then we finished it off after the other groups and we got to do one flower each.

We had lots of fun. When we finished.

As it was lunch time

Later on, we had sat down under a big shadey tree and we and we had our delicious lunch and once we were finished we went back into our groups.

Then we went into watch some Tudor people have some dinner. We were told all about Tudor manners. When ^{what} children had to do was stand until they learnt ~~there~~ manners.

After words, we went to watch Roxanne make butter. She couldn't use her left arm because the Tudors believed that the devil sat on their left shoulder. Then she told us to make a rhythm so she could finish the butter off. It looked hard work.

Next, we went to do some Tudor dancing and it was really fun and it was so amazing.

to learn how the Tudors danced like they did. Furthermore, we went to the Tudor Falconry and the master let a wonderful owl fly ^{over} our heads. It was really fun but unfortunately we only could stay for 5 minutes. I felt really sad.

Finally, we went back to get changed back to our school clothes. I felt really, really upset because I loved being a Tudor for the day. Then we all got reunited and had a thank you to the staff for a brilliant experience. Then we lined back up and got on to the coach. [Told our parents all about it] Does this sentence make sense?
