

Primary S199

COMMUNITY ACADEMIES TRUST
Institute of Education

As you train to become a Primary School teacher, you will be involved at the start of a child's learning journey and understand that no two days are the same. A Primary school teacher can have a huge impact on a child's life as you are with the same class every day.

The Primary school is divided into two key stages, 1 and 2. The statutory Primary National curriculum comprises English, maths, science, history, geography, music, art and design, PE, computing, design and technology. Languages are taught at key stage 2

You will learn about subject progress through the primary phase and use a wide range of teaching strategies.

You will develop a variety of pedagogical approaches as you practice your teaching skills.

There will also be opportunities to take part in wider curriculum experiences such as sports, clubs or class trips.
